THE GREATEST CURES OF ANY MEDICINE IN THE GLOBE.
HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

A LOCAL CURE OF PITS.
Extract of a Letter from Mr. Henry Whiting, Boot and Shoemaker, Red Bank, Stonequarry, February, 1847.
"SIR,—I have for many years past been troubled with the falling sickness, frequently dropping down as if my work in the street, and could get no relief from any one until I tried Holloway's Pills, and now by the use of them I am completely cured."
"To Mr. J. K. Heydon."
N.B.—The communication containing the above was received by the wholesale agent at Sydney of Mr. Whiting's cure, but then published, because the stock of medicines was exhausted; but the extract is now advertised by request. Many of Mr. Whiting's acquaintances having advised that the public should be made aware of such instances of the wonderful effects of Holloway's medicines, The wholesale agent is further instructed to say, that Mr. Whiting's cure has been completely lasting, by time, as he has continued in the enjoyment of perfect health ever since.
Extract of a Letter from Mr. H. Mace, Storekeeper, Unumbine, Gundagai, October 24, 1847.
"To Mr. Heydon.—Sir, when I was in Sydney last, I bought a few boxes of Holloway's Pills and Ointment, and brought them up to this district, and I have seen that their effects have been most wonderfully curative, insomuch that I am daily asked for them, and have now a letter from that District received from a settler a short distance from this, who states that the pills and ointment that I sent him (Holloway's) have performed wonders with one of his servants who was he says rotten above ground. So great and increasing is the faith in this medicine that I have decided upon sending to you direct for a supply. " "
If you will state the terms of an agency I will apply to you for it, if they suit me, as I feel sure of being able to sell large quantities of the medicine."
The Wholesale Agent begs to state that he has become aware of the many extraordinary cures performed by Professor Holloway's medicines; but he feels of course that he is not at liberty to publish the cases except at the wish of the parties themselves.

A CURE OF A DREADFUL AND DANGEROUS CASE OF ERYSIPELAS.
In the following remarkable case the Lady had been both deaf and blind from the virulence of the complaint.—February 12th, 1847.
Mrs. Gibbons, of Tivoli Place, Cheltenham, was for two years so dreadfully afflicted with Erysipelas that she became (however extraordinary it may appear) both blind and deaf from the severity of the disease, and during the whole of the time she was attended by several of the most eminent medical men in Cheltenham, who from exerting any benefit whatever, and, as a last resource, she tried Holloway's Pills and Ointment, which in two months perfectly cured the dreadful complaint, and likewise restored her to health.
Mrs. Boyle, the very respectable landlady of the Newmarket Inn, Cheltenham, can bear witness to this cure. It can also be authenticated at the Stationer's, No. 10, Arcade, High-street, Cheltenham.
THIS WONDERFUL MEDICINE CAN BE RECOMMENDED WITH THE GREATEST CONFIDENCE FOR ANY OF THE FOLLOWING DISEASES:—

Ague	Dropsy
Asthma	Dysentery
Bilious Complaints	Erysipelas
Blotches on the Skin	Female Irregularities
Bowel Complaints	Fevers of all kinds
Colics	Fits

W. E. ROWLAND has just received, or late arrivals, an extensive assortment of China, Glass, and Earthenware, of the newest designs and manufacture. His stock, which from these recent additions may now be with truth pronounced unrivalled in the metropolis, is daily open for inspection, and will be found to combine the useful with the ornamental branches of the trade, as may be seen from the following brief enumeration:—
Breakfast services, dinner services, toilet services, but ter pots, butter plates, pudding basins, jugs, dishes, pie dishes; tumblers, cut, plain, and pressed, to suit housekeepers and publicans; which he is determined to sell, for ready, on the smallest profit.
He has also the greatest variety of wine glasses, decanters, and carafes, cut and plain.
Settlers and country storekeepers will do well to favour him with a call, as his stock will be found equal in quality, and the prices as reasonable, as those of any other house in the trade.
All orders punctually attended to, and every care taken in packing.

WHOLESOME AND NUTRITIOUS MEAT.

HEADS OF FAMILIES, HOUSEKEEPERS, &c., desirous of curing meat perfectly, without rendering it indigestible, should purchase CARSON'S MEAT PRESERVER, by using which any meat is thoroughly cured, and tender, and dressed with ease in twelve to fifteen minutes, the juices and other nutritious properties are consequently retained, as in the fresh state; and meats avoided in the hottest weather.—The meat may be dressed in a few hours. Complete in small box.—Hopkins, C. Hoskin, and Co., 38, Duke-street, Manchester-square, and 1, Bishopsgate-street Within, London; and by his agents in the Australian colonies, viz., A. Foss, Dispensing Chemist, 313, Pitt-street, Sydney; Lewis and Son, Hobart Town; and R. Scott, Adelaide; Lewis and Son, Messrs. Jackson and Co.; Port Phillip—V. Champion; New Zealand—J. Boddington.

Perth, Western Australia,
16th February, 1846.
Messrs. Hockin and Co., Bishopsgate-street, London.
Sirs,—Having made a purchase of one of Carson's patent salting machines, and used the same with perfect success, on about 350 legs of mutton, being part of the proceeds of 107 sheep, boiled down for tallow, and in extreme hot weather—the thermometer being for two days, during the process, at 92° in the salting room, and from 100 to 105° in other parts of the premises,—these instruments will be a useful invention for the settlers in these warm climates.
Your obedient servant,
(Signed) JAMES STOKES.

Balaclava, April 26th, 1847.
(Mr. A. Foss.)
Dear Sir,—I send a cheque at bottom for the amount I am due you for Carson's Patent Salting Machine, and if it keeps in order—and as yet I see no reason why it should not—I think the sum well laid out. It answers admirably; I succeeded in salting a bullock, in extreme hot weather—December, lightning, and everything that was against; and do not hesitate to say every settler ought to have one, and have so recommended it right and left.
Yours, truly,
2376 (Signed) WILLIAM CASWELL

FOR PORT NICHOLSON.—By the Columbine, to-morrow, at noon.

FOR HOBART TOWN.—By the Louisa, to-morrow, at noon.

FOR LONDON.—By the Penguin, Perth, (P.O.P.), on Thursday evening, at six; and by the Agincourt, on Saturday evening, at six.

In the manifest of the Kelso, in yesterday's Herald, 14 cases and 1 bale British manufacture, consigned to David Jones and Co., were inadvertently put down to order; and in that of the Antares, 98 cases sugar, which ought to Smith and Campbell, should be to Joubert and Murphy.

The steamer Shamrock, for Port Phillip and Launceston, has been unavoidably detained in consequence of the holidays, until this afternoon at five o'clock.

The Winnebah will commence discharging this day, at Moore's Wharf, and the Kelso at the Circular Wharf to-morrow.

The steamer Tasman, now due for Moreton Bay the 20th ultimo, put back to Newcastle at noon on Sunday last for coals and supplies, of which she had run short. The unexpected and the strong northerly gales she had had to contend with since leaving this port; she resumed her voyage again at two o'clock P.M. Tasman, arrived at Newcastle at six A.M. yesterday, and was under the shoot when the steamer Hunter left for Sydney.

The brig Rattington, for Port Fairy, and schooner Phoebe, for Port Phillip, went down the harbour yesterday afternoon, but the extreme heaviness of the atmosphere preventing any communication by telegraph between the signal stations at Port Phillip and South Head, it could not be ascertained whether they proceeded to sea or not.

OUR NEW CONSTITUTION.

THOUGH our observations on this subject have already extended to an inconsiderable length, we have as yet discussed only one out of the three parts of which our New Constitution is to consist. That part, however, being the intended depository for the [elective franchise, "heating to the House of Assembly the relation of constituents and representatives," is in truth, as seems to us, by far the most important feature in the whole scheme. The other two are comparatively harmless and uninteresting, and our consideration of them may be despatched in few words.

The second of Earl Grey's proposed institutions, is a Legislature for each colony, partly elective, and partly nominated by the Crown. As regards Victoria (that is to be) and South Australia, this will be an institution altogether new; as regards Van Diemen's Land and Western Australia, it will be new in so far as it divides the appointment of legislators between the Crown and the people. Thus, as regards our own colony, it will be new (in principle, that is, for we know nothing of the details,) only in so far as it separates the representative and the nominee members into two chambers, and confers upon the former the title of House of Assembly, leaving to the other the existing one of Legislative Council.

We need not remind our readers, that this alteration in the form of our Colonial Legislature would be at least a theoretical improvement, inasmuch as it would be an assimilation not only to the structure of the Imperial Legislature, but also to that of nearly every other Colonial Legislature. And if the representative element had now to be introduced amongst us for the first time, unaccompanied by the crotchet of delegating the franchise to municipal juntas, we should certainly advocate, as we did six years ago, the measure now contemplated by Earl Grey. As it, we are disposed, on the old rule of letting well alone, to think that our present system, which has on the whole worked satisfactorily for a period of five years, had better not be disturbed until it has had a yet further trial. "It is good," says the immortal Bacon, "not to try experiments in State, except the necessity be urgent, or the utility be evident." We should be less reluctant, however, to see this change effected, were it not for the concurrent change in the mode of returning our elective members. The two changes together amount to an innovation, the bare conception of which startles us. A mob House of Assembly, unrestrained by the presence of enlightened, prudent, respectable men, such as the Crown takes care to select as its nominees, would, if possible, be worse than our City Council. If the latter cannot be entrusted with such petty matters as street-sweeping and gutter-making, what might be expected from the former when discussing questions affecting interests of the highest moment? Even the present Legislative Council, composed as it undoubtedly is of gentlemen—gentlemen, for the most part, by birth and education, as well as by property—has often had its temper put to very severe trials, and has more than once been betrayed into excesses which nothing but its own inherent sense of propriety, acted upon by the authority of the Chair and of the Standing Orders, sufficed to arrest and put down at an early stage. Such a House of Assemblyas my Lord Grey offers to us would, we verily believe, be nothing better than a bear-garden! Its members would be everlastingly quarreling and wrangling amongst themselves, and there would be blusterous collision with the Upper House.

Before we can consent, therefore, to have a separate House of Assembly, we must have some security that it will consist, in fair proportion at least, of men of character and competent acquirements.

There now remains only the third part of our New Constitution—the central Legislature which is to represent the whole of the Australian Colonies, and make laws touching their common interests. The erection of such a body as this, which we have called the Australian Congress, appears to us unquestionable, except that it would be scarcely anything for it to do, and that it would be exceedingly difficult to find gentlemen able and willing to submit to the inconveniences which its duties, though of unfrequent recurrence, would unavoidably impose. The place of its meeting would doubtless be Sydney, as the largest and oldest of our seats of Government. Now, a periodical voyage to Sydney from the neighbouring colonies, especially from the most distant of them, for legislative purposes, would consume so much time, require so total a suspension of private business, and withal involve so considerable an outlay of money, that we really do not see how a sufficient number of gentlemen, in countries where time is so precious, and where almost every body is fully employed, could be induced to purchase honour so high!

Our task for the present, is done. We say, "for the present," because we rejoice to perceive that a Preliminary Meeting has been called for to-morrow," "to consider what steps it may be deemed advisable to take for the purpose of opposing the passing of Earl Grey's proposed Bill for the government of this colony. All gentlemen," it is added in the advertisement, "who feel an interest in thwarting a measure so ruinous to the best interests of the colony, and so diametrically opposed to the wishes of its inhabitants, are earnestly invited to attend." We trust this invitation will be cordially and numerously responded to, and that the discussions at the meeting to convened, and the ulterior measures then originated, will afford fresh materials for the labours of the Press.

☞ To be held at Mr. Lyons's Rooms, Charlotte-place, at 2 o'clock.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

SUPREME COURT.—MONDAY.

BEFORE the full Court.

THE COMMERCIAL BANK RESPECTABILITY CASE—THE QUEEN v. TOWNEND.

The points raised at the trial for argument before the full Court, came on for argument to-day. One and all were decided against the prisoner, a full report of which will appear in to-morrow's morning paper.

His Honor Mr. Justice DICKINSON immediately passed the sentence of the Court upon the prisoner, viz.: on the first count, that he be sentenced to hard labour for seven years on the roads; on the second count, that he be sentenced to confinement in the Sydney Gaol for one day, to commence from the expiration of the said term; and on the last count, to another day's imprisonment, to commence from the expiration of the second last day.

It was past midnight before the arguments were concluded, when the Court was adjourned.

TALLOW, HIDES, &c.

(From Good and Rigby's Circular, August 31.)

THE TALLOW MARKET.—The tendency all the month has been downward, and the price have been limited to the immediate wants of the buyers. Another valley is now quoted i.e. 6d. lower, with a limited demand, and prominent terms, the rate can be effected at 2s. under the extreme price at the close of last month. In our last report we were induced to notice the position of the Tallow Market, as the system pursued of raising and depressing prices without any apparent reason is calculated to produce not only a temporary injury, but permanent injury to all the part of consumers, when fresh arrivals come forward, but also a greater loss to the parties who would otherwise purchase. The extreme supply of home-melted tallow at one period, effected the tallow chiefly, but the supply of the number has naturally changed the prospect, and the production of English tallow at a low limit, has left the bulk of the yearly supply for some time to come. New South Wales—In the early part of the month, the tallow came in fair quantity, and brought high prices, but subsequently it has been but in very limited supply, and the bulk of the tallow offered has been very greasy and sudden, which there has been little disposition to purchase, and which has yielded a very unsatisfactory return to the sellers. The following is the state of the market, the sales of the month have gone off sedatedly, and nearly the same prices ruling as last month.

The total sales comprise 120 casks, as follows:—

Stock on hand, 1st January, Present stock, 1848.

NEW SOUTH WALES HIDES.—The stock at the close of the month is very small, and there has been a considerable portion of them having arrived in bad condition, from defective curing, nearly the whole of them requiring to be sorted, and cut, and culled at very low prices. The sales comprise 1976 hides, as follows:—Sold at 50 to 52½ d., 52½ d., 55 d., 57½ d., 60 d., 62½ d., 65 d., 67½ d., 70 d., 72½ d., 75 d., 77½ d., 80 d., 82½ d., 85 d., 87½ d., 90 d., 92½ d., 95 d., 97½ d., 100 d., at Lord Brougham upon the French criminal system.

The principle of subjecting an accused party to personal examination is, I know, what may be maintained as well as opposed by arguments of considerable force. Putting aside, however, the discussion of this question, and assuming that it may be both wise and humane to examine and cross-examine a person suspected of crime for the sake of arriving at the truth, it must still be admitted that such an examination ought not to be conducted as if the accused were not merely suspected but actually convicted of guilt. I grant that the English system is obstinately presuming innocence until a verdict is pronounced, and still it must be admitted to be a much safer error to start with a positive presumption of criminality. If justice will not lean even by a fair's breadth towards the side of humanity, she ought not to lean on the other side. If she will embody the inflexible rigour of the law, she ought to evince its positive impartiality. What, in this line of procedure—when guilt is assumed before conviction, and when questions are framed to terrify or surprise accused parties into fatal admissions, the personal examination of such parties may be rendered a torture, not so savage perhaps, but quite as cruel and revolting as the thumb-screw or the rack.

Some of the interrogatories addressed to the Duke de Praslin appear conceived in his spirit, and are much more worthy of the sixteenth or seventeenth century than of the nineteenth. To judge of the propriety or impropriety of the effect of such questions upon the mind of an innocent man—for according to the French system of procedure an innocent man who happened to fall under suspicion, could be interrogated there. Our belief in the Duke's guilt, therefore, ought not to influence our judgment as to the propriety of taking evidence, which cannot be right, unless it would have been right even though suspicion had rested on the wrong person. Now, supposing the Duke de Praslin to have been wrongfully accused, in spite of strong appearances against him—supposing him to have been a nervous and timid man—and suppose him, agitated and half stupified with the horrors of his position, to be brought immediately before the highest tribunal for personal examination, what should we think of questions being put to him like those which were recently put by the President of the Chamber of Peers? The very first was a recommendation to make a confession—"for it is impossible for you to deny; you cannot dare to deny!" Then, after asking about the time of going to bed, and without any acknowledgment of guilt having been made, the judge took up a trap the Old Bailey fashion for his antagonist—"Was your resolution formed when you went to bed?" The innocent party had then proceed—"You must have experienced a most distressing moment when you saw, about two o'clock, that you were covered with the blood which you had perhaps, and which you were obliged to wash off. Those marks of blood have been altogether satisfactorily explained away; but suppose they shewed the blood of their murdered victim on me.

"Did you not very wrached to have committed this crime? Did you not experience as much as it is in your power to have?—Did you not experience remorse?—Did you not experience shame?—Did you not experience despair?—Did you not experience despair?—Did you not experience despair

WELLINGTON.

MR. MORT

Has been favoured with instructions to sell by auction,

THIS DAY, 4TH JANUARY, At eleven o'clock,

6694 SHEEP, together with the magnificent station of "GARRA,"

IN THE DISTRICT OF WELLINGTON.

THE SHEEP were originally from the flocks of William Lawson, Esq., THE RAMS have been bred by C. Wray Finch, and John Maxwell, Esquires, a SUFFICIENT GUARANTEE FOR THE BREED OF THE SHEEP, AND QUALITY OF THE WOOL! without further comment from the auctioneer!

The proportion of ages and sexes is excellent, viz.:—

1343 Young ewes
1140 Ewes, three and four years
1617 Ditto, four, five, and six years
416 Aged ewes
200 Choice rams (Maxwell and Finch's)
733 Wethers, full mouth
1352 Ditto, two and two and a half years

6691

AND

THE WHOLE OF THE LAMBS OF THIS SEASON WILL BE GIVEN IN, AMOUNTING AS PER RETURN OF 8TH DECEMBER TO 2146.

The fine station of Garra adjoins the spacious runs of Messrs. Bentley, Brothers, and is in the immediate neighbourhood of those of Dr. Ramsay, and J. H. Hood, Esq. It is

WELL SHELTERED, WELL WATERED, AND REMARKABLY HEALTHY, and capable of carrying at least 10,000 SHEEP.

The improvements are upon that liberal scale which distinguishes the Wellington district; they consist of a superintendent's cottage, an overseer's dwelling, men's hute, cultivation paddock of 22 acres, garden, stables, stockyard, draughting pens, stores, &c., &c., together with

A FIRST-RATE IRON SCREW WOOL PRESS, (constructed at a great expense,) and every convenience for a well-managed station.

THERE WILL ALSO BE GIVEN IN

Bullocks
Drays, carts
Horses, (four)
And all other implements, &c., on the station.

Considerable quantity of Stores.

Mr. Mort calls the attention of capitalists to the rare opportunity of securing a in the enviable district of Wellington, which from its proximity to Sydney, and the favourable nature of the climate for the growth of fine wool, offers advantages for sheep farming unsurpassed in the colony, and the certain issue of long leases, is daily enhancing the price of such properties. These sheep are really first-rate, as the foregoing particulars abundantly testify.

☞ Recent letters have from the superintendent to the proprietors state—"There are many improvements since you were here which are worthy of consideration. There is a shed over the wool-press 30 feet long by 16 feet wide, altogether calculated to afford shelter to 7 to 8 hundred sheep. Cultivation has been placed in good order; one-half of which is planted with potatoes, from which I expect a large crop; there are also 200 vines, with raspberry, gooseberry, pears, &c., &c. The crop of potatoes would have enabled me to save flour next year. The total quantity of the sheep now is 6694, together with 2146 September lambs."

Terms very liberal.

Say—£400 cash deposit
The remainder in 3 fall at twelve months, secured on the property. 211

ELEGANT AND COMMODIOUS VILLA RESIDENCE,

KNOWN AS

DEBORAH COTTAGE,

WITH

EXTENSIVE GARDEN AND SPACIOUS PADDOCKS.

MR. MORT

HAS been instructed to sell by auction, at his Rooms,

THIS DAY, 4TH JANUARY, At 11 o'clock

A most beautiful and complete Villa Residence, situated on the Parramatta Road, between three and four miles from Parramatta, together with 12½ ACRES OF GROUND, conveniently subdivided into gardens and cultivation and grazing paddocks.

This elegant cottage contains three front rooms, all painted, and two bed-rooms at the back; together with larder, pantry, kitchen, &c., all in superior order, and ready for the immediate reception of any gentleman and his family. There is a verandah all round on a raised stone flagging.

THE GARDEN

is in first-rate order, and comprises about three acres of ground, stocked with the choicest fruit trees.

A GOOD PADDOCK

for horses, cows, &c., with plenty of water.

COACH-HOUSE.
FOUR-STALLED STABLE
COW-HOUSE
BYOAE
TWO SERVANTS' COTTAGES, BRICK-BUILT

Piggeries, fowl-houses, &c.; adjoining which are

4 ACRES OF GOOD LAND, all cleared, and which was under cultivation last season; also,

3 ACRES OF LAND, WITH STANDING TIMBER.

This property, which is almost new, is one of the most beautiful in the vicinity of Parramatta, and from its easy distance from Sydney and the frequent passing of coaches to and fro, it is peculiarly suited for the dwelling of any one desirous of some retirement after his engagements in the city, or of any retiler wanting

A REALLY CONVENIENT HOMESTEAD, near Sydney. It has cost the proprietor upwards of

1000 GUINEAS,

but will be sold without the SLIGHTEST RESERVE of any kind, and the TERMS WILL BE VERY LIBERAL.

For further particulars apply at the Rooms of the Auctioneer. 213

600 CHOICEST HEIFERS,

MORE OR LESS,

TOGETHER WITH

A FINE STATION,

ON THE BOOMI CREEK, IN A SEARCH OF THE RESERVE) IN THE DISTRICT OF THE WARRAGO, LIVERPOOL PLAINS, KNOWN AS TARRAWAR AND BINDEENA.

MR. MORT

Will sell by public auction, at his Rooms, George-street, on

THIS DAY, 4TH JANUARY, At 11 o'clock,

SIX Hundred really choice and well bred HEIFERS, of the celebrated Gill brand, two and three years old, which are nearly all milkers' calves.

TOGETHER WITH

the Station above described, which is most excellently watered and grassed, and in any season will carry at least one thousand head, the whole being Myall country, with fine ridges and rich undulating plains; the station is in the immediate neighbourhood of Messrs. Crowds and Doyle, and has upon it first-rate stockyard and hut.

Terms cash, or approved bill at three months, with security on the stock if required. 214

SIX HUNDRED HEAD OF CATTLE, AND THE SUPERIOR STATION AND DAIRY FARM,

AT THE M'LEAY RIVER,

"KLYBUCCA."

MR MORT

Has received instructions to sell by public auction, at his Rooms,

THIS DAY, 4TH JANUARY, At eleven o'clock,

A SUPERIOR BRED HERD OF CATTLE, as follows:—

200 Cows, 4 years old and upwards
40 Bullocks, ditto
90 Heifers and Steers, 3 years old
130 Ditto ditto, 2 ditto
120 Ditto ditto, 1 ditto
9 Bulls.

Together with the right of station to the run of

"KLYBUCCA."

THE CATTLE are from excellent stock, and most of the cows are broken to bail.

The station is situated on a large creek, about five miles from the river, and only twenty-two miles from Messrs. Warner's boiling down establishment, and will carry 1200 head.

THE IMPROVEMENTS

are of the MOST SUBSTANTIAL DESCRIPTION, consisting of slab and shingled house of five rooms, with detached kitchen, a barn, men's huts, &c., &c. There are good stockyards, and about three miles of fencing, which, combined with natural boundaries, enclose about and five most extensive grazing paddocks, capable of keeping from 200 to 300 head of cattle, in the most secure manner.

40 ACRES OF LAND UNDER CULTIVATION,

In Fact, this property offers every advantage, every convenience, for profitably carrying on an extensive dairy establishment, coupled with that daily increasing source of wealth—the breeding of pigs for their bacon and lard.

The horses, dray, working bullocks, punt, boats, &c., &c., will be sold with the station at a valuation.

This number and most remunerative property is only sold to close a partnership account, and presents a rare opportunity for embarking a moderate capital in a profitable pursuit.

Terms at sale. 212

FEMBROKE PARK.

TO THE INDUSTRIOUS FARMER. IMPORTANT SALE

OF RICH ALLUVIAL LAND, WITH EXTENSIVE RIVER FRONTAGE, IN A DENSELY POPULATED DISTRICT.

MR. GEORGE A. LLOYD

HAS much pleasure in informing the inhabitants of the Hunter, Paterson, and William Rivers, that he has received instructions from

CAPTAIN JOHN LEWIS,

(Formerly of Merpeth, but now of Haverford-west, Pembrokeshire, Wales,) to submit to public competition, on the Ground,

ON MONDAY, 10TH JANUARY, At 12 o'clock precisely,

The whole of that magnificent property so well known as the

PEMBROKE PARK ESTATE,

bounded on the south and west by 18 chains of a reserved road 66 feet wide, dividing it from the property of John Rolee, Esq.; on the north-west by a line bearing north 10 degrees east 47 chains, adjoining Macdonald's land; on the south-east by a line bearing west 37 degrees north 63 chains 70 links, adjoining land belonging to John Rolee, Esq.; and on the north-east by the

and presenting an opportunity that rarely occurs to a man to become the architect of his own fortune.

Arrangements have been made to divide the estate in such a manner that persons of the humblest means may safely purchase; and the terms offered are such that the land will absolutely produce the amount necessary to pay for it before it is required.

LOT 1,

contains 20½ acres, bounded on the north by the River Paterson, immediately opposite "Wallalong," the fertile estate of Dr. Scott; on the east by Lot 2; on the south by
